DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 1/8/09 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 37, 39, 40, and 43 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103 as being unpatentable over Kline USPN 5,376,094 in view of Marken USPN 4,875,718.

Kline discloses the invention substantially as claimed being a surgical snare device comprising a tubular sheath 14 having a handle 10, a shaft 12 that is slidable within the sheath, a snare loop 20 having a plurality of legs attached at the end of the shaft that is slidable within the sheath moving it from an expanded position to an unexpanded position. However, Kline does not disclose a swivel connection between the shaft and snare loop.

Art Unit: 3738

Marken teaches the use of a swivel connection between two elements comprising a swivel body 36 in the same field of endeavor for the purpose of preventing kinking of flexible medical hoses.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to replace the crimp connection of Kline with the swivel connection comprising a swivel body as taught by Marken in order to allow easy rotation without kinking of the cables.

Claims 7 and 42 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kline in view of Marken as applied to Claims 1, 3, 37, 39-41, and 43 above, and further in view of United States Patent 4,326,530 Fleury Jr.

Kline as modified by Marken discloses the invention substantially as claimed being described supra. However, the combination does not disclose that the surgical loop includes a braid.

Fleury Jr teaches the use of a surgical loop comprising a braid in the same field of endeavor for the purpose of providing a loop with enhanced fidelity giving the user a better feel for what is happening with the loop.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to combine the braided loop of Fleury Jr with the surgical snare device of Kline as modified by Marken in order to provide a loop with enhanced fidelity.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 1/8/09 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The applicant argues that the Kline reference fails to disclose the shaft is movable from a first to a second position, wherein the loop moves from within the sheath to outside of the sheath. The examiner disagrees with this because the figures of Kline make it abundantly clear that the device does in fact move in this same manner. The applicant is directed to figures 1 and 2 showing the loop contained within the sheath and figure 3 where the loop extends out of the sheath.

Conclusion

This is a continuation of applicant's earlier Application No. 10/717775. All claims are drawn to the same invention claimed in the earlier application and could have been finally rejected on the grounds and art of record in the next Office action if they had been entered in the earlier application. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL even though it is a first action in this case. See MPEP § 706.07(b). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no, however, event will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
